

To Know Your Beauty

To find my life in You and my hope in You,
To gaze and glory and live Your story,
To taste and see, and be more than satisfied
So that Jesus is magnified in me.
Oh let me speak and shine His awesome supremacy!

*LORD, I want to know Your beauty,
To linger under the shadow of Your wings,
And be a child that sings and brings
You all of the honor and all praise,
To be ravished and amazed
by Your mercy and Your never-failing love.*

To be kept by You and found in You,
To know You in the secret place,
To see Your face, to know the sound of Your voice,
Know the sound of Your whisper in my heart,
To not just know in part
But to know all the fullness of Your majesty,
The fullness of Your glory—
To be changed and rearranged inside
That my soul will always be full of Jesus' matchless grace.

Whatever it takes,
Whatever suffering, and humbling, and struggling,
Don't hide from me Your face!
Lift up the light of Your countenance upon me!